AMERICAN ASSN. FOR RECOGNITION OF IRISH REPUBLIC

Joseph Murphy council of above association will meet on Thursday evening, March 3, at Cosmopolitan hall, 79th and Halsted Sts. A good program is assured for this meeting as the Rev. J. K. Fielding, who recently visited Ireland, will tell of his experience with the black-and-tans as he was arrested by them while over there. We will also have with us Shawn O'Hara, a youth who recently arrived from the city of Cork and who was a soldier in the regiment commanded by the late martyred patriot, Lord Mayor McSwiney. Mr. O'Hara will sing some of the new Irish songs, including "My Dark Rosaleen," which he will sing in Gaelic and in English. Miss Anna Williams of the James Connolly council has also promised to be with us, who will in her talented manner entertain us with some vocal numbers. Mr. John Coffey, president of the Shane O'Neil council, will lecture on Irish history. All members are urgently requested to attend this meeting and to be in the hall by 8 o'clock sharp. Florence C. Egan, corresponding secretary; J. J. Needham, president.

Who is the wisest man—he who says the right thing at the right time? No, indeed—but he who leaves unsaid the wrong thing at the tempting moment.—Anon.

Mr. Laurin J. Zorn of 76th St. is making frequent trips south this winter and we surmise they are not entirely on business.

MILDRED B. DAVIES BECOMES BRIDE OF HARRY M. ATHERTON

A very pretty wedding took place Saturday evening, Feb. 19, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Davies, 7704 Green St., when their daughter, Miss Mildred B. Davies, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry M. Atherton of Washington, D. C. Rev. J. Hastie Odgers of Rogers Park performed the ceremony in the presence of about sixty relatives and friends, including the Mes-Ka and the Chongchong Epong Yo clubs, of which the bride was a prominent member. The bride was gowned in a beautiful costume of flesh colored satin with allover silk net; her toilette was perfected with a large shower bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Dorothy Ellsworth, the maid of honor, wore jade green chiffon prettily trimmed with flowers and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Edith Monroe and Miss Alta Davies, sister of the bride. Mr. John Thomas Pike of Arrowsmith, Ill., acted as best man, while Mr. Clifford Atherton, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Arthur Monroe acted as groomsmen. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by Miss Maude Willett and Lohengrin's Bridal Song was beautifully sung by Miss Ruth Wentsel. After the usual congratulations had been showered upon the happy couple a very tempting repast was served. The table was beautifully decorated in pink and white roses entwined with smilax. The young couple received many beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Atherton left for Washington, D. C., where they are to be at home to their friends after May 1st.

GIRL'S SCREAMS SCARE BURGLARS

Early Monday morning burglars entered the home of M. L. O'Connell, 7617 Peoria St., and escaped with loot valued at $110.

It was the screams of the little O'Connell daughter that compelled the visitors to make a hasty departure.

CHARLES J. KICKHAM COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Charles J. Kickham council of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic was held in St. Leo's hall on Tuesday evening. The attendance was unusually large, because of the fact that it was the night of Washington's birthday; and in as much as his splendid achievement in severing the ties that bound the colonies to England acted as an inspiration to those engaged in a similar struggle to pull away from British domination, enthusiasm ran high as the association cheered the name of Washington and saluted the stars and stripes.

To make the occasion a patriotic American celebration, a short business session was held, after which the meeting was turned over to the entertainment committee. Martin J. McNally presided in his usual graceful style. Miss Alice Devane—popularly called the Mary Garden of Chicago—sang "The Star Spangled Banner," accompanied on the piano by Miss Marie Brennan. Mr. John Mangan delivered an interesting and patriotic address on Washington, his times and accomplishments, and drew a parallel between his successful achievement and the struggle in Ireland, his address being punctuated with applause, produced a happy effect on the audience.

Father Shrewbridge, the popular pastor of St. Leo's, spoke encouragingly and forcibly on organization, its effects and results.

Congressman John W. Rainey, always popular with an Irish audience, stirred his hearers to a high pitch of enthusiasm when he spoke of the Irish struggle; and in unmistakable terms told where he stands on that question.

The meeting closed by a drive for membership, followed by another song, "The Soldiers of Erin," by the popular and accomplished Miss Alice Devane.

B. Spain of 7634 Carpenter St. is recovering nicely from a recent operation at the Mercy hospital.

MRS. LEIGH COMING TO GRESHAM CLUB

On March 4th Mrs. Chas. Wilbur Leigh will address the Gresham Woman's Club on "Treasures of the Art Institute," with lantern illustrations. There will be a display of bird houses and designs from the pupils of 7th and 8th grades, to which premiums will be awarded. In the morning, a short business session followed by a box luncheon, the proceeds to go to the fund for Oakhaven Home, to be erected at 113th St. and Western Ave.

Feb. 18th was a memorable day for the Gresham Woman's Club. Guests of honor were Miss Isabell Graham, principal of the Gresham school, and the teachers. The luncheon table was beautifully decorated with flowers, the color scheme being carried out in the club colors, yellow and brown. Addresses by Mr. Gurtin, Normal school instructor, on "Efficiency," a stirring address on "Child Welfare" by Mrs. Featherstone, followed by Miss Graham on "Co-operation." There was an unusually large attendance and many applications for membership were read.

Mrs. Charles Shellberg of 79th St. is convalescing from an illness of the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sullivan of Emerald Ave. entertained a card club of twenty young people Sunday evening at their home. Refreshments were served and dancing followed.

Little Miss Imogene Clark of 7900 Morgan St. entertained fourteen small friends Tuesday afternoon in honor of her sixth birthday. Cherries, hatchets and Washington favors delighted the hearts of the children present. All seemed to enjoy a happy holiday.

CARE OF TEETH

By Dr. H. N. Novy

All questions relative to the care of teeth, mouth hygiene, etc., if of general interest, will be answered in this column. When space will not permit, letters will be personally answered.

Dental Caries, or Decay of Teeth

Dental caries may be defined as a disease of a tooth characterized chiefly by the formation of a cavity containing decayed tooth structure and due to acid fermentation.

Examinations of skulls show this disease to be certainly as old as semi-civilization. The skull of a mummy in the British museum, dating 2800 B. C., shows well marked decay and other dental diseases. Decay appears in the teeth of the skulls of all people, no matter what their degree of civilization, provided their diet included cooked, starchy foods.

The primary cause of the decay of the teeth is a collection of bacteria upon the surface of the tooth. This probably begins with the formation of a film or coating over the tooth by saliva. This film is immediately infected by the bacteria of the mouth and the combination of the two form a "plaque," center or colony or whatever you may wish to call it. To this plaque comes the starchy foods—and the chemical reaction therefrom causes the formation of acids (lactic) which destroys the tooth structure. Hence it is safe to presume that a constant warfare against these bacteria and plaques reduces and prevents the decay of teeth in a large degree.

Invariably decay begins in the pits and grooves of the teeth, about defective fillings and upon unclean surfaces. Any condition favoring the formation of colonies of bacteria and the retention of starchy foods will eventually cause the teeth to decay.

The number of cleanings a day is no guarantee of perfect hygiene, but it is a certainty that decay will be reduced to a minimum providing all decayed teeth have been properly filled and all other causes inviting dental caries have been removed. It is safe to say therefore that unclean mouths invite decay and clean ones discourage it and develop immunity to cavies.

Decay—a roughness of the enamel which often accompanies teeth of poor structure may act as a favoring condition. Sometimes there is a relation between the color of teeth and the presence of decay. The following averages of all ages have been observed: White teeth, 14 per cent decay; yellowish white, 16 per cent; yellow, 20 per cent, and grayish-blue, 24 per cent.

A leading dental authority some years ago pointed out the fact that unclean and filthy mouths often do not contain decayed teeth. His explanation for that was that deposits adhering to the teeth remained unchanged and undisturbed for so long a time that their acid-producing capacity was lost, and as a result these deposits acted as a protection to the teeth as far as decay was concerned. It would seem therefore good policy that immune mouths of this sort ought not to be cleaned at all. A striking example of this has a bearing on this point. A patient of about 50 years of age was for years immune to decay and would not permit his teeth to be cleaned. He was finally persuaded to allow it and immediately he lost his immunity.

The whole subject of susceptibility and immunity to caries is yet obscure but experiments are gradually approaching the conclusion that dental caries is a question of the presence or absence of a specific local cause.

What Do You Know About Chiropractic?

Do you believe that it is a Health Science which is daily relieving the sufferings of thousands and saving thousands from a premature grave?

Is your belief based upon actual experience or simply upon hearsay, or is it a matter of fact that you have given the subject little serious thought?

Do you know that CHIROPRACTIC is entirely different to any other form of Drugless Science and that it has nothing in common with OSTEOPATHY?

Do you know that there are ten thousand chiropractors who are practicing their profession in the country at the present time and that still the supply is not equal to the demand?

Do you know that since 1909 ALMOST SIXTY THOUSAND patients have been adjusted at the clinic of The Palmer School of Chiropractic, Davenport, Iowa?

Do you know that in the recent "Flu" epidemic chiropractors only lost one case out of 886, or one-ninth of one per cent?

Do you know that it has been proven beyond a reasonable doubt that as a prophylactic (preventive) method, Chiropractic stands head and shoulders above any other?

Ninety-five per cent of so-called Disease is caused by a subluxation (displacement) of one or more vertebrae (small bones) of the spine which causes an impingement (pinching) of the nerves, preventing the life force from flowing normally.

The chiropractor relieves this pinching by CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS with his bare hands only. The displaced bones are put back into their normal position, the pinching is relieved, the life force flows uninterruptedly and Health is the result.

Mechanical defects cannot be corrected by the employment of drugs.

The chiropractor is a spine specialist, a human machinist, who has been trained to know the spine thoroughly.

See your chiropractor, ask him for more information regading his wonderful Science. Get him to give you a Spinal Analysis and ascertain just what condition your spine is in. It will pay you.

QUEEN OF THE ISLES, IRELAND

Ah! Ireland, my beautiful Ireland,
Mother gra, milish machree,
Sure 'tis over your mountains and moorland
My soul's ever longing to be.
For the years and the miles that divide us
Ne'er could make me forgetful of you,
And tho' tyrant and foe may deride us,
'Tis the core of my heart tells you true.
In my dreams when at night I am sleeping,
In my thoughts thro' the whole day long,
I grieve with your proud soul a-weeping,
You so tender, who ne'er did a wrong
To the tyrant who has ravaged, defamed thee;
Pure, fair little mother so grand
Whose bosom still pulses so proudly,
Thou queen of the isles, Ireland!

O! Ireland, Acushla, Mavourneen,
Were endearments a thousand times more
To spring forth from my soul fondly yearning
For a glimpse of you, Aulin Astoir,
Sure, I'd send them all over with gladness,
And my prayers to kind heaven for you,
If they only could banish the sadness
That is yours, my loved Rosaleen Dhu. —John P. Raftery.

BOY SCOUTS

James E. West, chief scout executive of America, was in Chicago last week. Mr. West's visit was in connection with national council work.

Mr. West was welcomed by Dr. H. W. Hurt, Chicago scout executive, and five eagle scouts. During his stay here he had several conferences with many prominent Chicagoans relative to scout activities.

During his stay here Mr. Scott issued the following message of greetings to Chicago scouts:

"Greetings to the scouts of Chicago.

"You are to be congratulated in securing as your executive one of the best trained and equipped men in the United States. Dr. Hurt will undoubtedly make Chicago one of the best scout centers in the country.

"He will see to it that you get even better facilities for camping. More hiking, as well as the kind of leadership which will mean better all around scouting.

May I ask each of you to remember that the reputation of the scout movement rests in your hands as you show the value and training of the scout principles. In Dr. Hurt you have a fine executive and Mr. McCormick will be one of the ablest presidents the Chicago council has ever had. May we hope to have proper appreciation and support for the Boy Scout movement for the boys of Chicago.

"Best wishes to you all."

Picked units of local organizations gave a first aid exhibition and performed other scout duties in order to show the visiting chief the progress made by the Chicago troopers.

Mr. Scott highly complimented the officers of the local companies in their achievements.

While Chief Scout Executive Scott was visiting here new regulations for applications for merit badges for the Southwest district were promulgated.

The new rulings, effective March 1, make it necessary that scouts applying for merit badges in this district present their credentials to Field Scout Executive Hines for his o. k. The scout will then be sent to an expert, qualified examiner. The awards will be presented at an impressive ceremony, which will be held and which will mean much to the progress of the boys of the district.
